HERTFORD:
PRINTED BY STEPHEN AUSTIN AND SONS.

TO THE READER.

So much use has always been made of the old volumes of the Gentleman's Magazine for literary and genealogical purposes, and the indices nominum, published by Ayscough were so notoriously inadequate for ready reference, that, at an early date, a new and improved index was included amongst the proposed publications of the INDEX SOCIETY.

It was resolved that the first volume to be issued should be an index to the biographical and obituary notices for the first fifty years, and the compilation of it was undertaken by Mr. R. H. Farrar. The first part of the volume, down to page 240, was issued in 1886, and was published at 6, Hanway Street, W. Various circumstances combined to delay the progress of the work, and the second part, comprising pp. 241 to 416, which was passed through the Press by Mr. H. B. Wheatley, the Director of the INDEX SOCIETY, with the assistance of Mr. R. B. Prosser and Mr. G. C. Boase, was not issued until 1889. This was published at 23, King William, Street Strand. Shortly after a proposal was made by the INDEX SOCIETY for an amalgamation with the BRITISH RECORD SOCIETY, and this, which was subsequently carried out, has led to further delay in the issue of the third and last part.

The revision of this part, and its passage through the Press, has been undertaken by Mr. E. A. Fry.

The index is now complete down to the year 1780, inclusive, and if the present volume meets with adequate support, it may hereafter be found desirable to index in a similar manner the remaining volumes of the Gentleman's Magazine.

Appended hereto is a useful key to the volumes and years of the Gentleman's Magazine, which has been prepared by Mr. E. A. Fry, and brought down to the year 1868, at which date this periodical ceased to have any practical value.

It should be noted, for the information of the bibliographer, that this work has been issued in two sizes, to range respectively with the Gentleman's Magazine and the publications of the INDEX SOCIETY.
